TEXAS VISITOR HONORED Miss Hattie Taylor, of Waco, Tex.. who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Thompson in Highland Park, was the honoree of many social courteries while here. Among them was a house party on Signal mountain, given by Misses Margaret and Minnie Wood; a luncheon on Loookut mountain, given by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson; also a swimming party at McCallie lake at which they were hosts, and a musicale at the home of Mrs. G. M. Jones on Missionary ridge.

GUESTS ON MOUNTAIN

One of the brightest places around hattanoogs on a rainy day is the colour Mountain house. The large allroom, the spacious verandas and the mg, open hallways afford well-lighted comenades and space for congenial roung satherings, while the entire place flers a restful attitude away from the rowds of the city thoroughters, and speaks as do the quiet and freedom f a delightful home.

Mrs. Nan Troilinger, who is keeping he hotel, is making a specialty of hicken dinners every Sunday, and arge crowds go up from the city to pend the week-ends.

Among the recent arrivals are the

UNIQUE PROGRAM GIVEN BY MEN'S CLUB FRIDAY

The meeting of the Men's club of the Highland Park Baptist church was held at the Junior High school building Friday evening, when it took the form of a delightful watermelon cut. The affair was planned for last Tuesday night, to be given on the roofless floor of the new church building in process of construction, but was postponed. Despite the rain of Friday night, about fifty were present. Watermelons which were served had been kept in cold storage sincs Tuesday and were thoroughly enjoyed. An orchestra furnished music during the evening.

A short business session was held, in which a good deal of mirth was provoked by a mock trial. Another amusing feature was the reading by Joe Smith, of The Chattanooga Nows, borrowed from the files of the future, bearing the date Aug. 13, 1945. The advertisements, the personais and news items (telling of the annovation of all the towns within 300 miles—Nashville, Knoxville and Atlanna—to Chattanooga, a wonderful city of a million or more inhabitants) were keenly relished.

The reading by 'he pastor, Rev. W. S. Keese, of Abe Martin's unique description of the present day rent problem was highly enjoyed.

MASQUERADE DANCE AT MOUNTAIN CLUB

Revival of the masquerade ball, which will be featured at the Lookout Mountain club this evening, is creating considerable interest, and some of the costumes promise to keep the most intimate friends of the wearers guessing. Prizes will be offered for the most original and attractive costumes. Mrs. J. B. Pound is general chairman and Mrs. T. H. McClure is chairman of the supper, which will be served buffet style. Music will be furnished by the club orchestra. More than one hundred reservations have already been made for the dance.

"These reports could be distributed to all farmers' organizations from a central office in America," said Mr. Meyers in outlining his plan to a meeting of executives of farmers' leagues. "The domestic news could be promptly obtained through county agents. Thus the farmers would have more complete information each day regarding the world supply and demand.

"I also recommend that farmers' cooperative organizations organize their own brokerage companies with membership in the Chlesgo board of trade and other big grain exchanges, handling

London.—(I. N. 8.)—Playing the cornet all high the go to like wife to the cornet all high the performance by a titing that he was going to give her "Hellip Delight," was one of the allegations of persistent cruelty made by a wife lagainst her husband in a separation case in a local police court.

"He also would throw the teacups at me while I lay in bed," added the wife, "and sometimes he would row the teacups at the will a gainst her husband in a separation to be and say the mat, was good enough for me to sleep on.

"All day Sunday he would spend the day cursing rise, and sometimes he would pray to God to send down sufficient rain to drown me and the family," she added.

After gravely considering the case the magistrate said that while the woman had obviously surfered a great deal by moral crueity, there was insufficient evidence on which to grant deal by moral crueity, there was insufficient evidence on which to grant as separation, and the case would be reconciled.

Island." Robert Louis Stevenson's famous classic will be seen in pictures at the Rialto. If you like a picture full of red-blooded adventure and at the same time rich in the spirit and lore of the pirate days you will enjoy "Treasure Island." The film opens with a most vivid picture of the fight at Benbow Tavern, which catches the attention of those in the audience from the very beginning.

The fight over the sea chest and the capture of the chart showing the location of Capt. Flint's treasure by Jim; the expedition to see the laried gold; the fights with the pirates, and a thousand and one other episodes are depicted in the film.

Shirley Mason has the role of Jim, Lon Chaney is Merry and Charles Ogle gives a good portrayal of Long John Silver.
